The class of '68
has been caught
up in a kaleidoscope
of change.
Classes and social activities
have gradually matured us
and helped us to
discover our interests.
All these movements
have shone in
different lights,
colors, and shapes
through our kaleidoscope.
Our experiences
gradually intensify into
a vision
of knowledge
the way pale blue
deepens.
We learn more
about ourselves
through relationships
with others.
As we continue to turn
the kaleidoscope of our lives,
whatever we focus
on will change
shape and develop.

The color
is pale blue,
and the vision
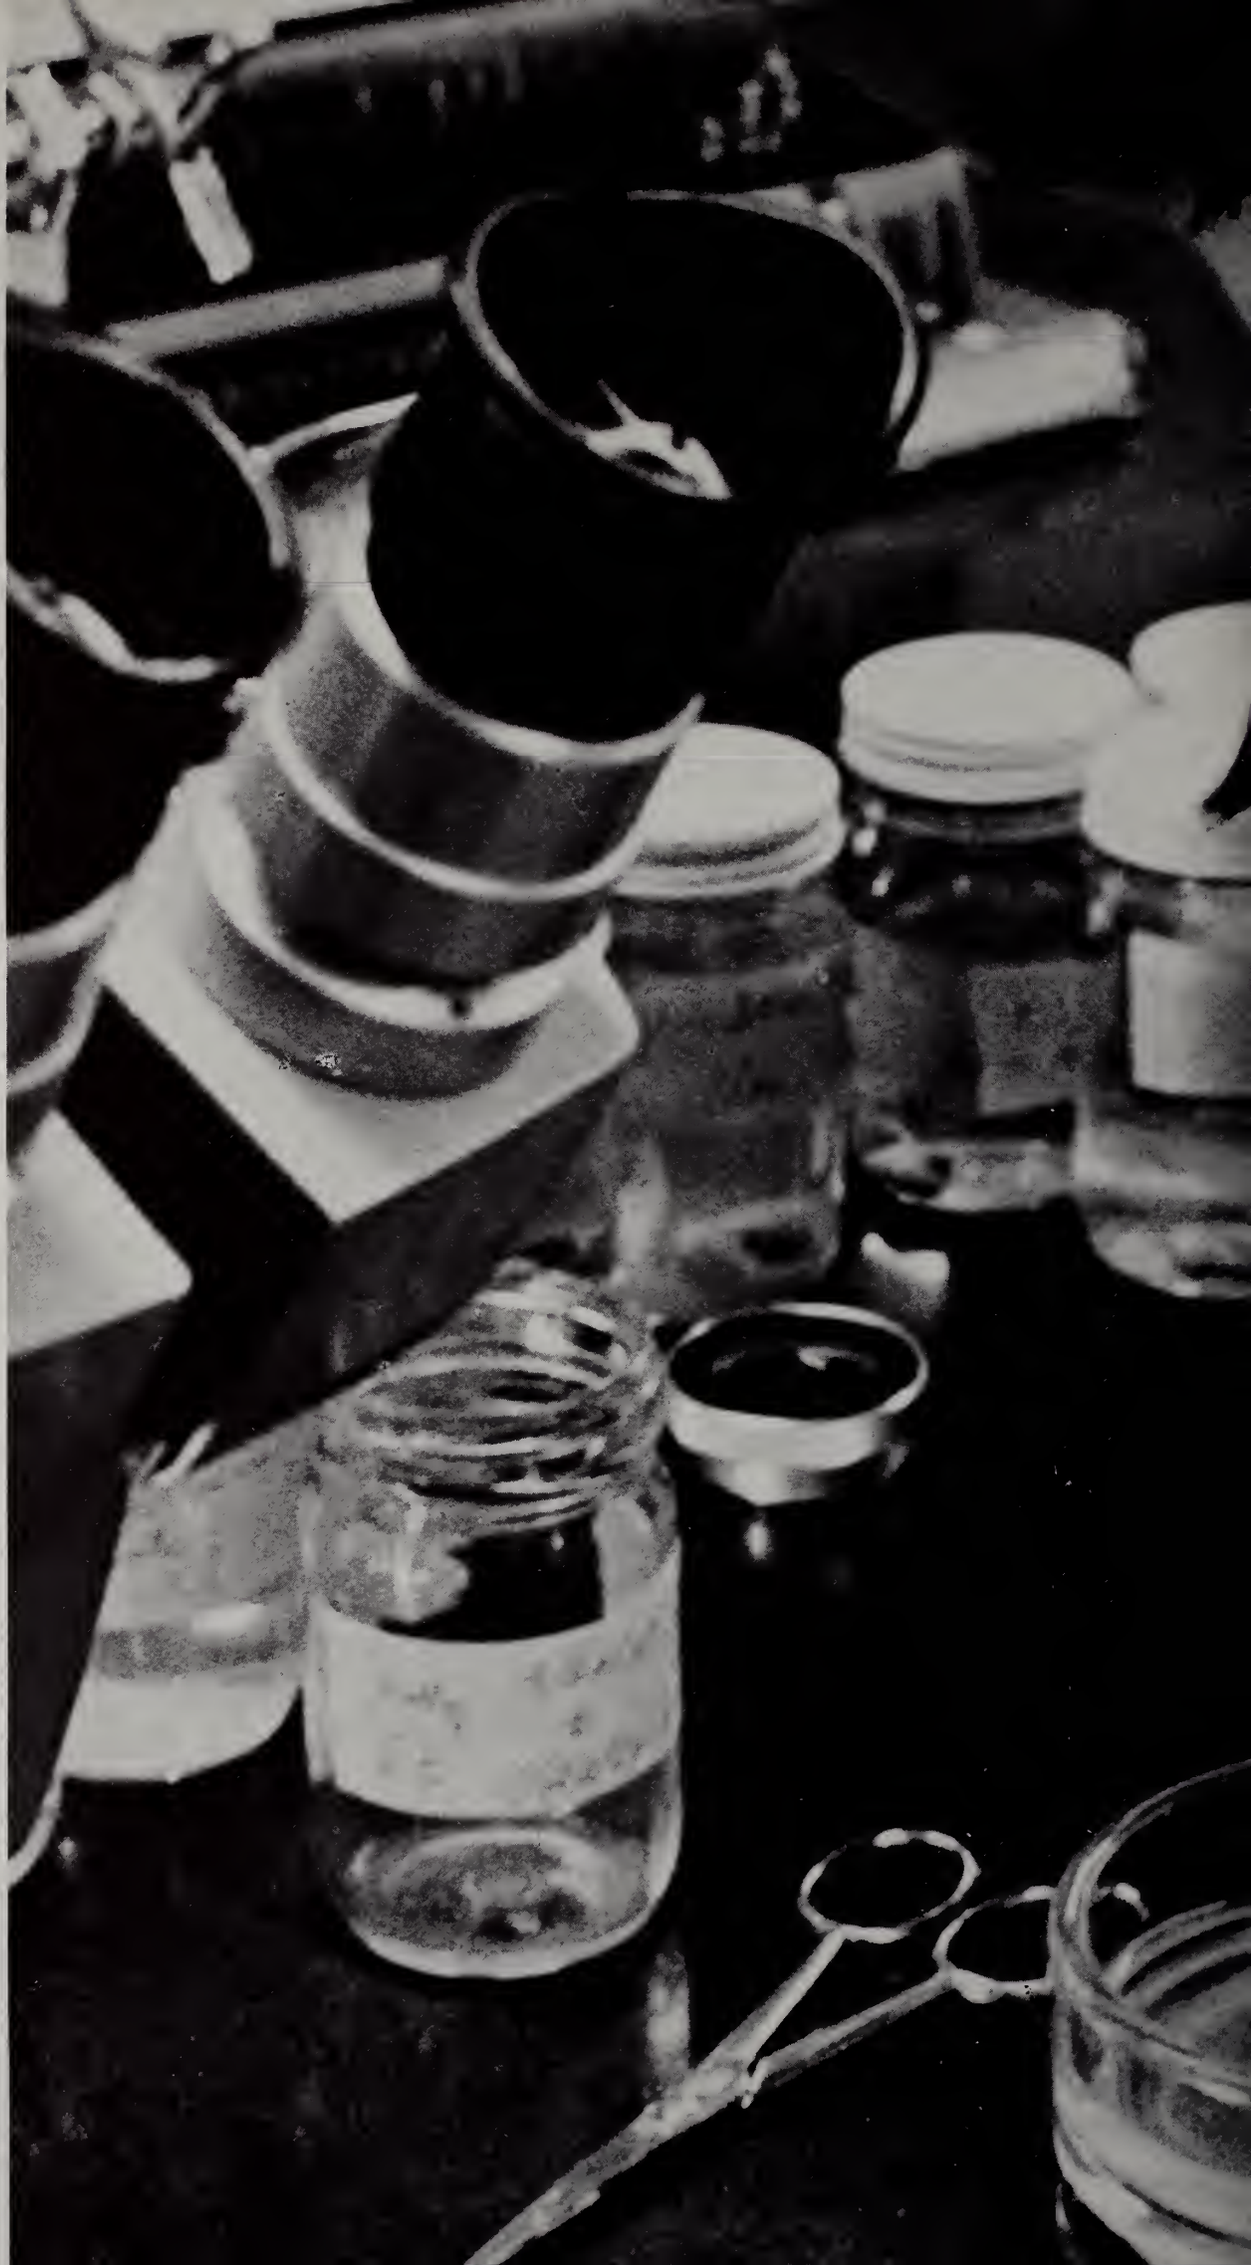
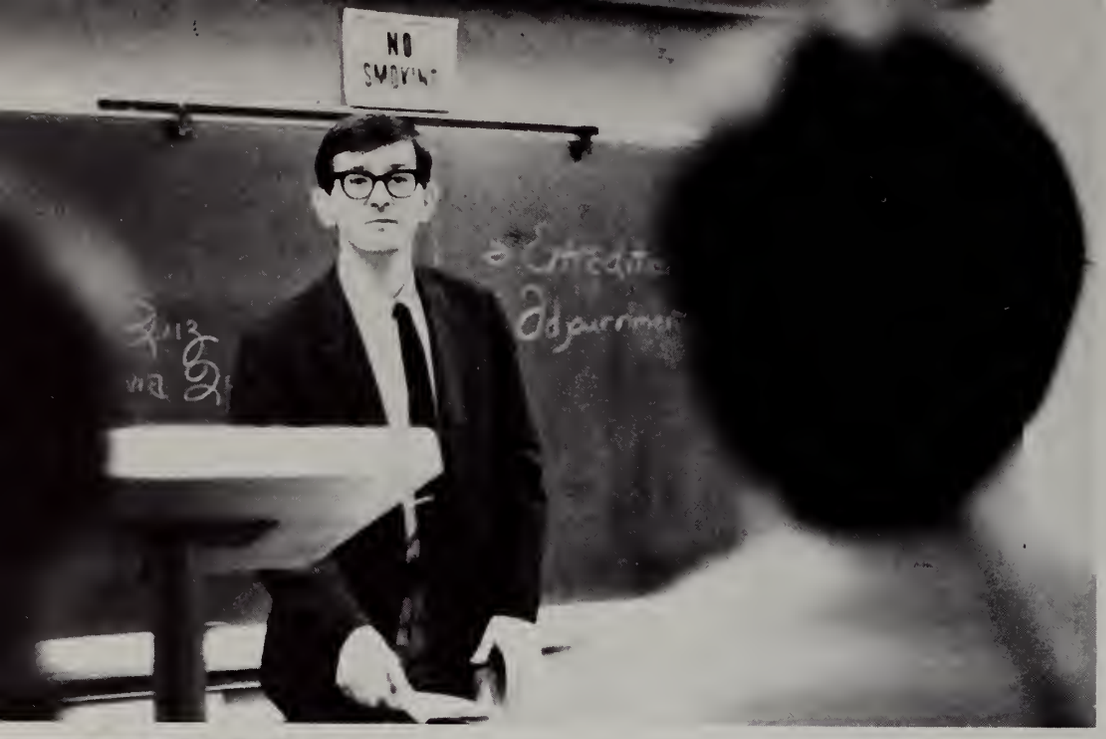
begins.

The kaleidoscope revolves as students reflect.

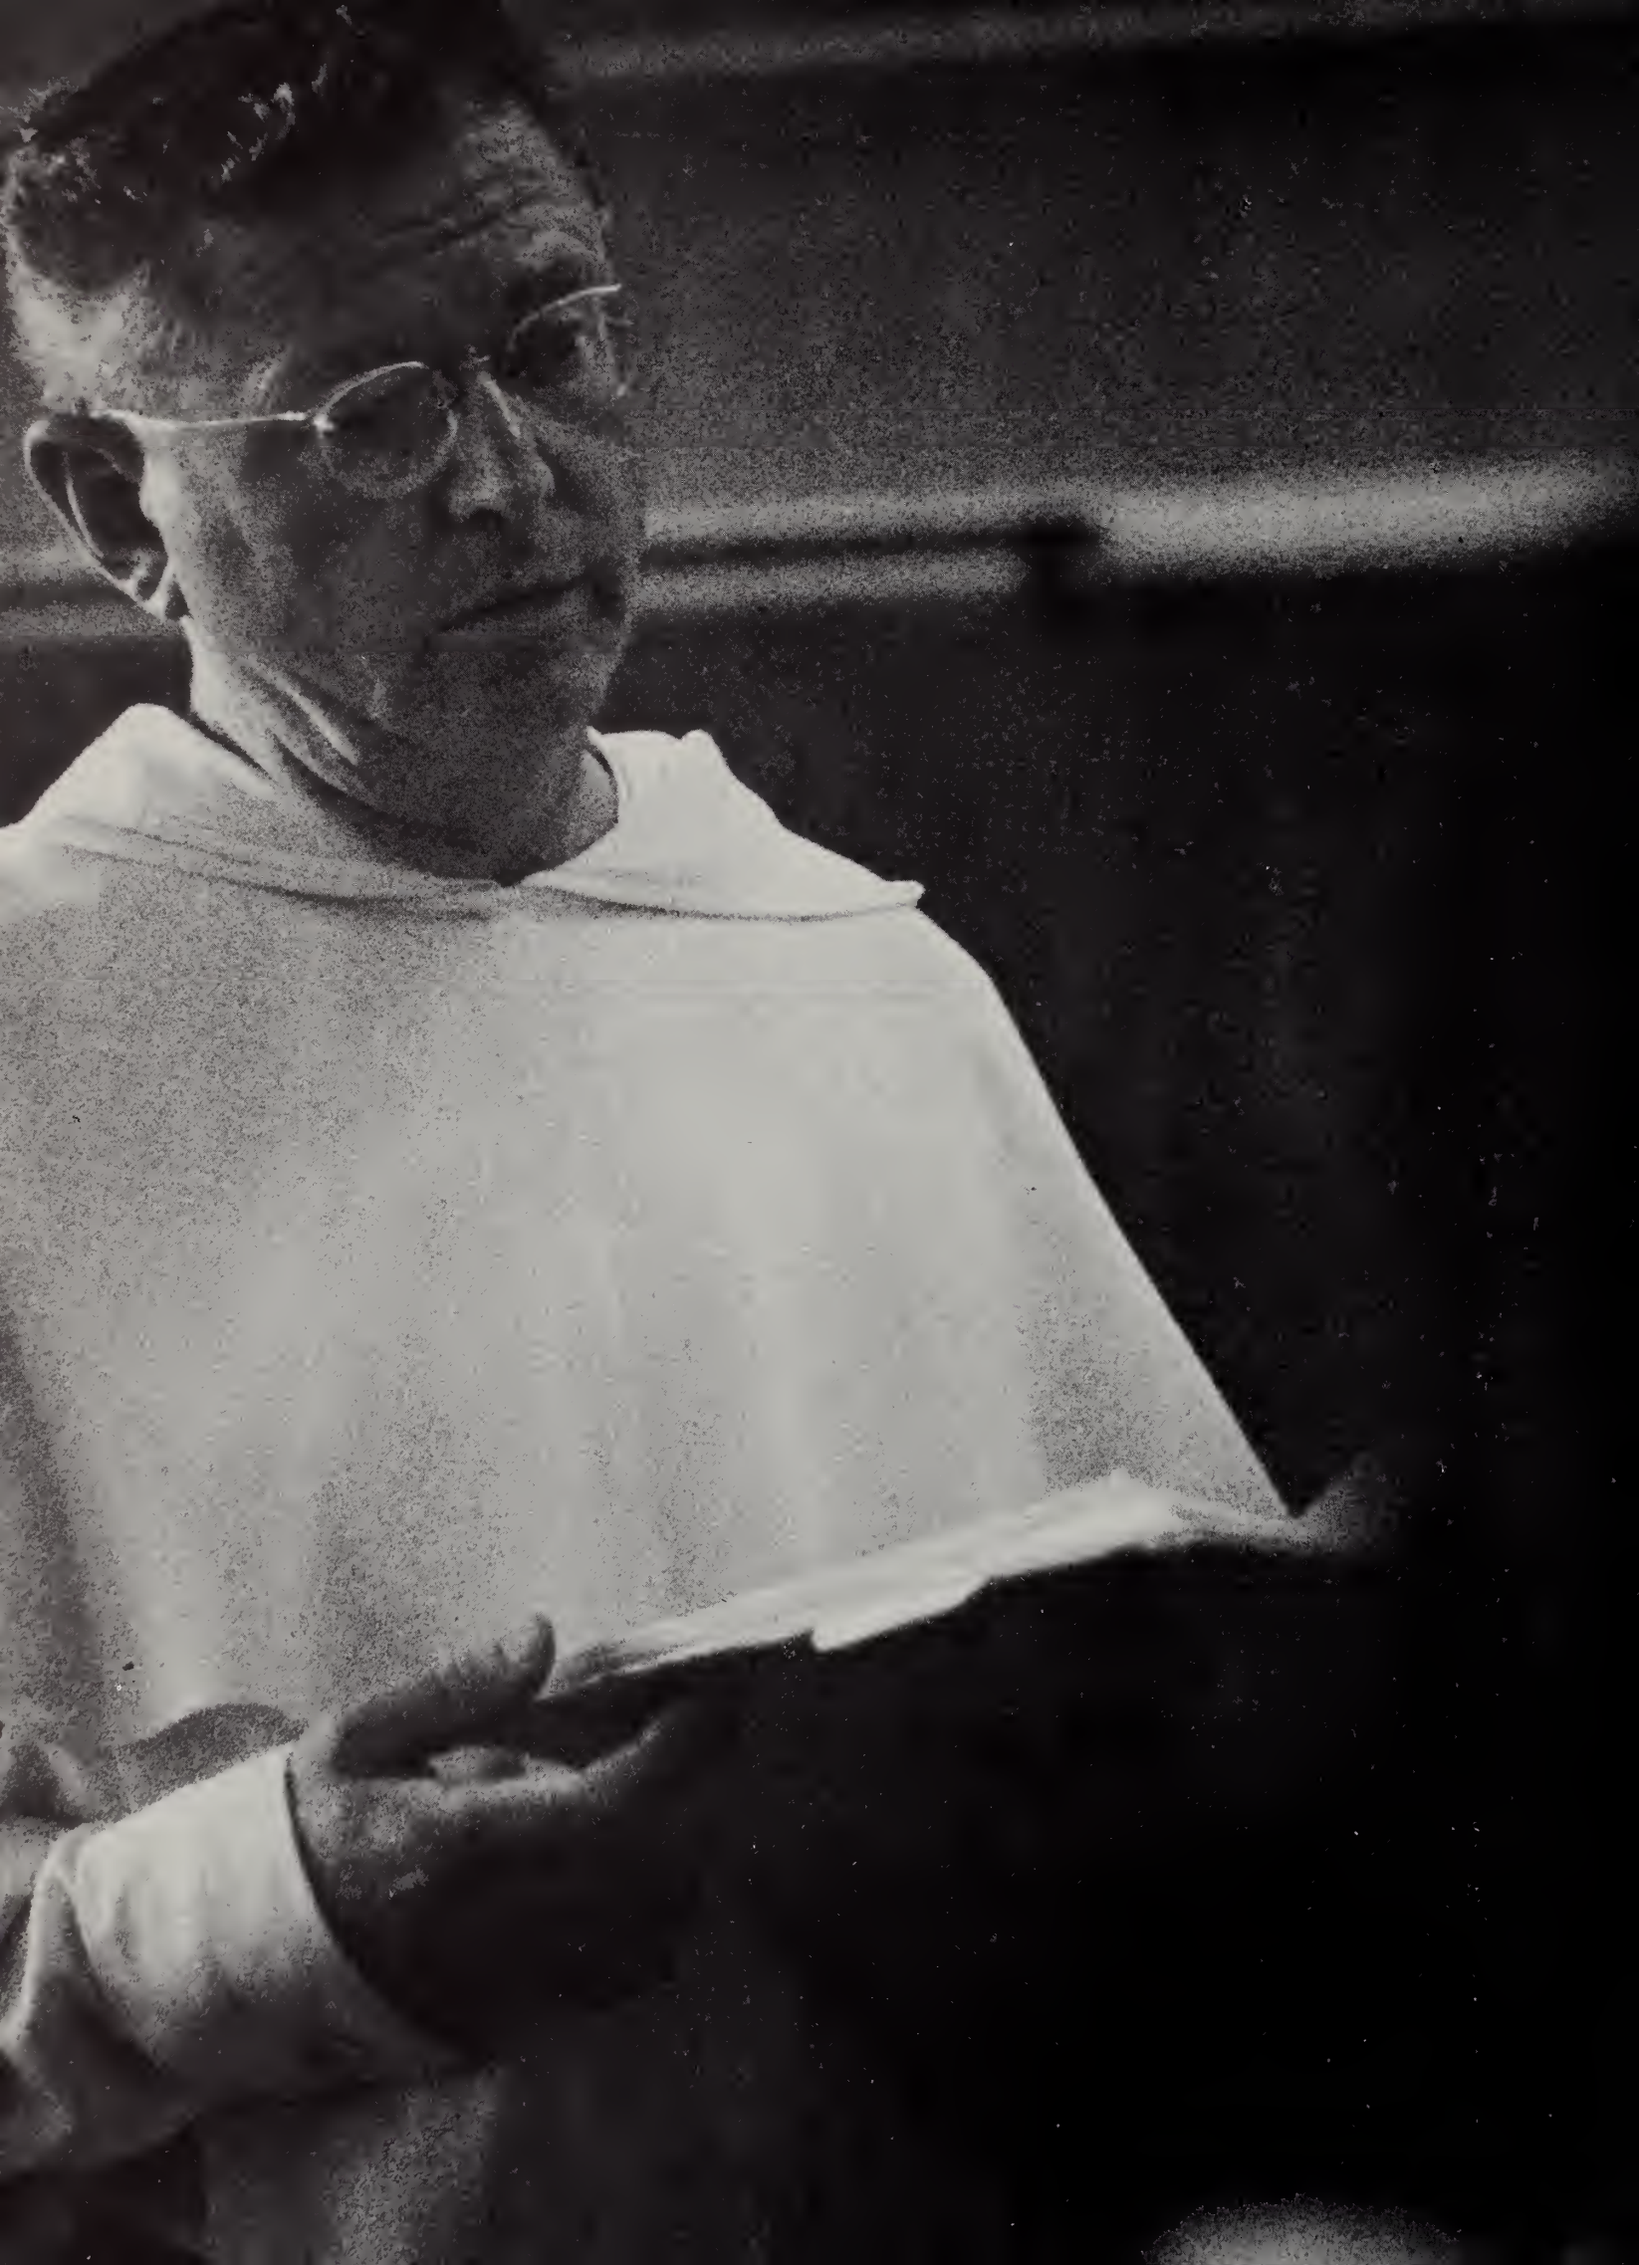
We search for our talents.



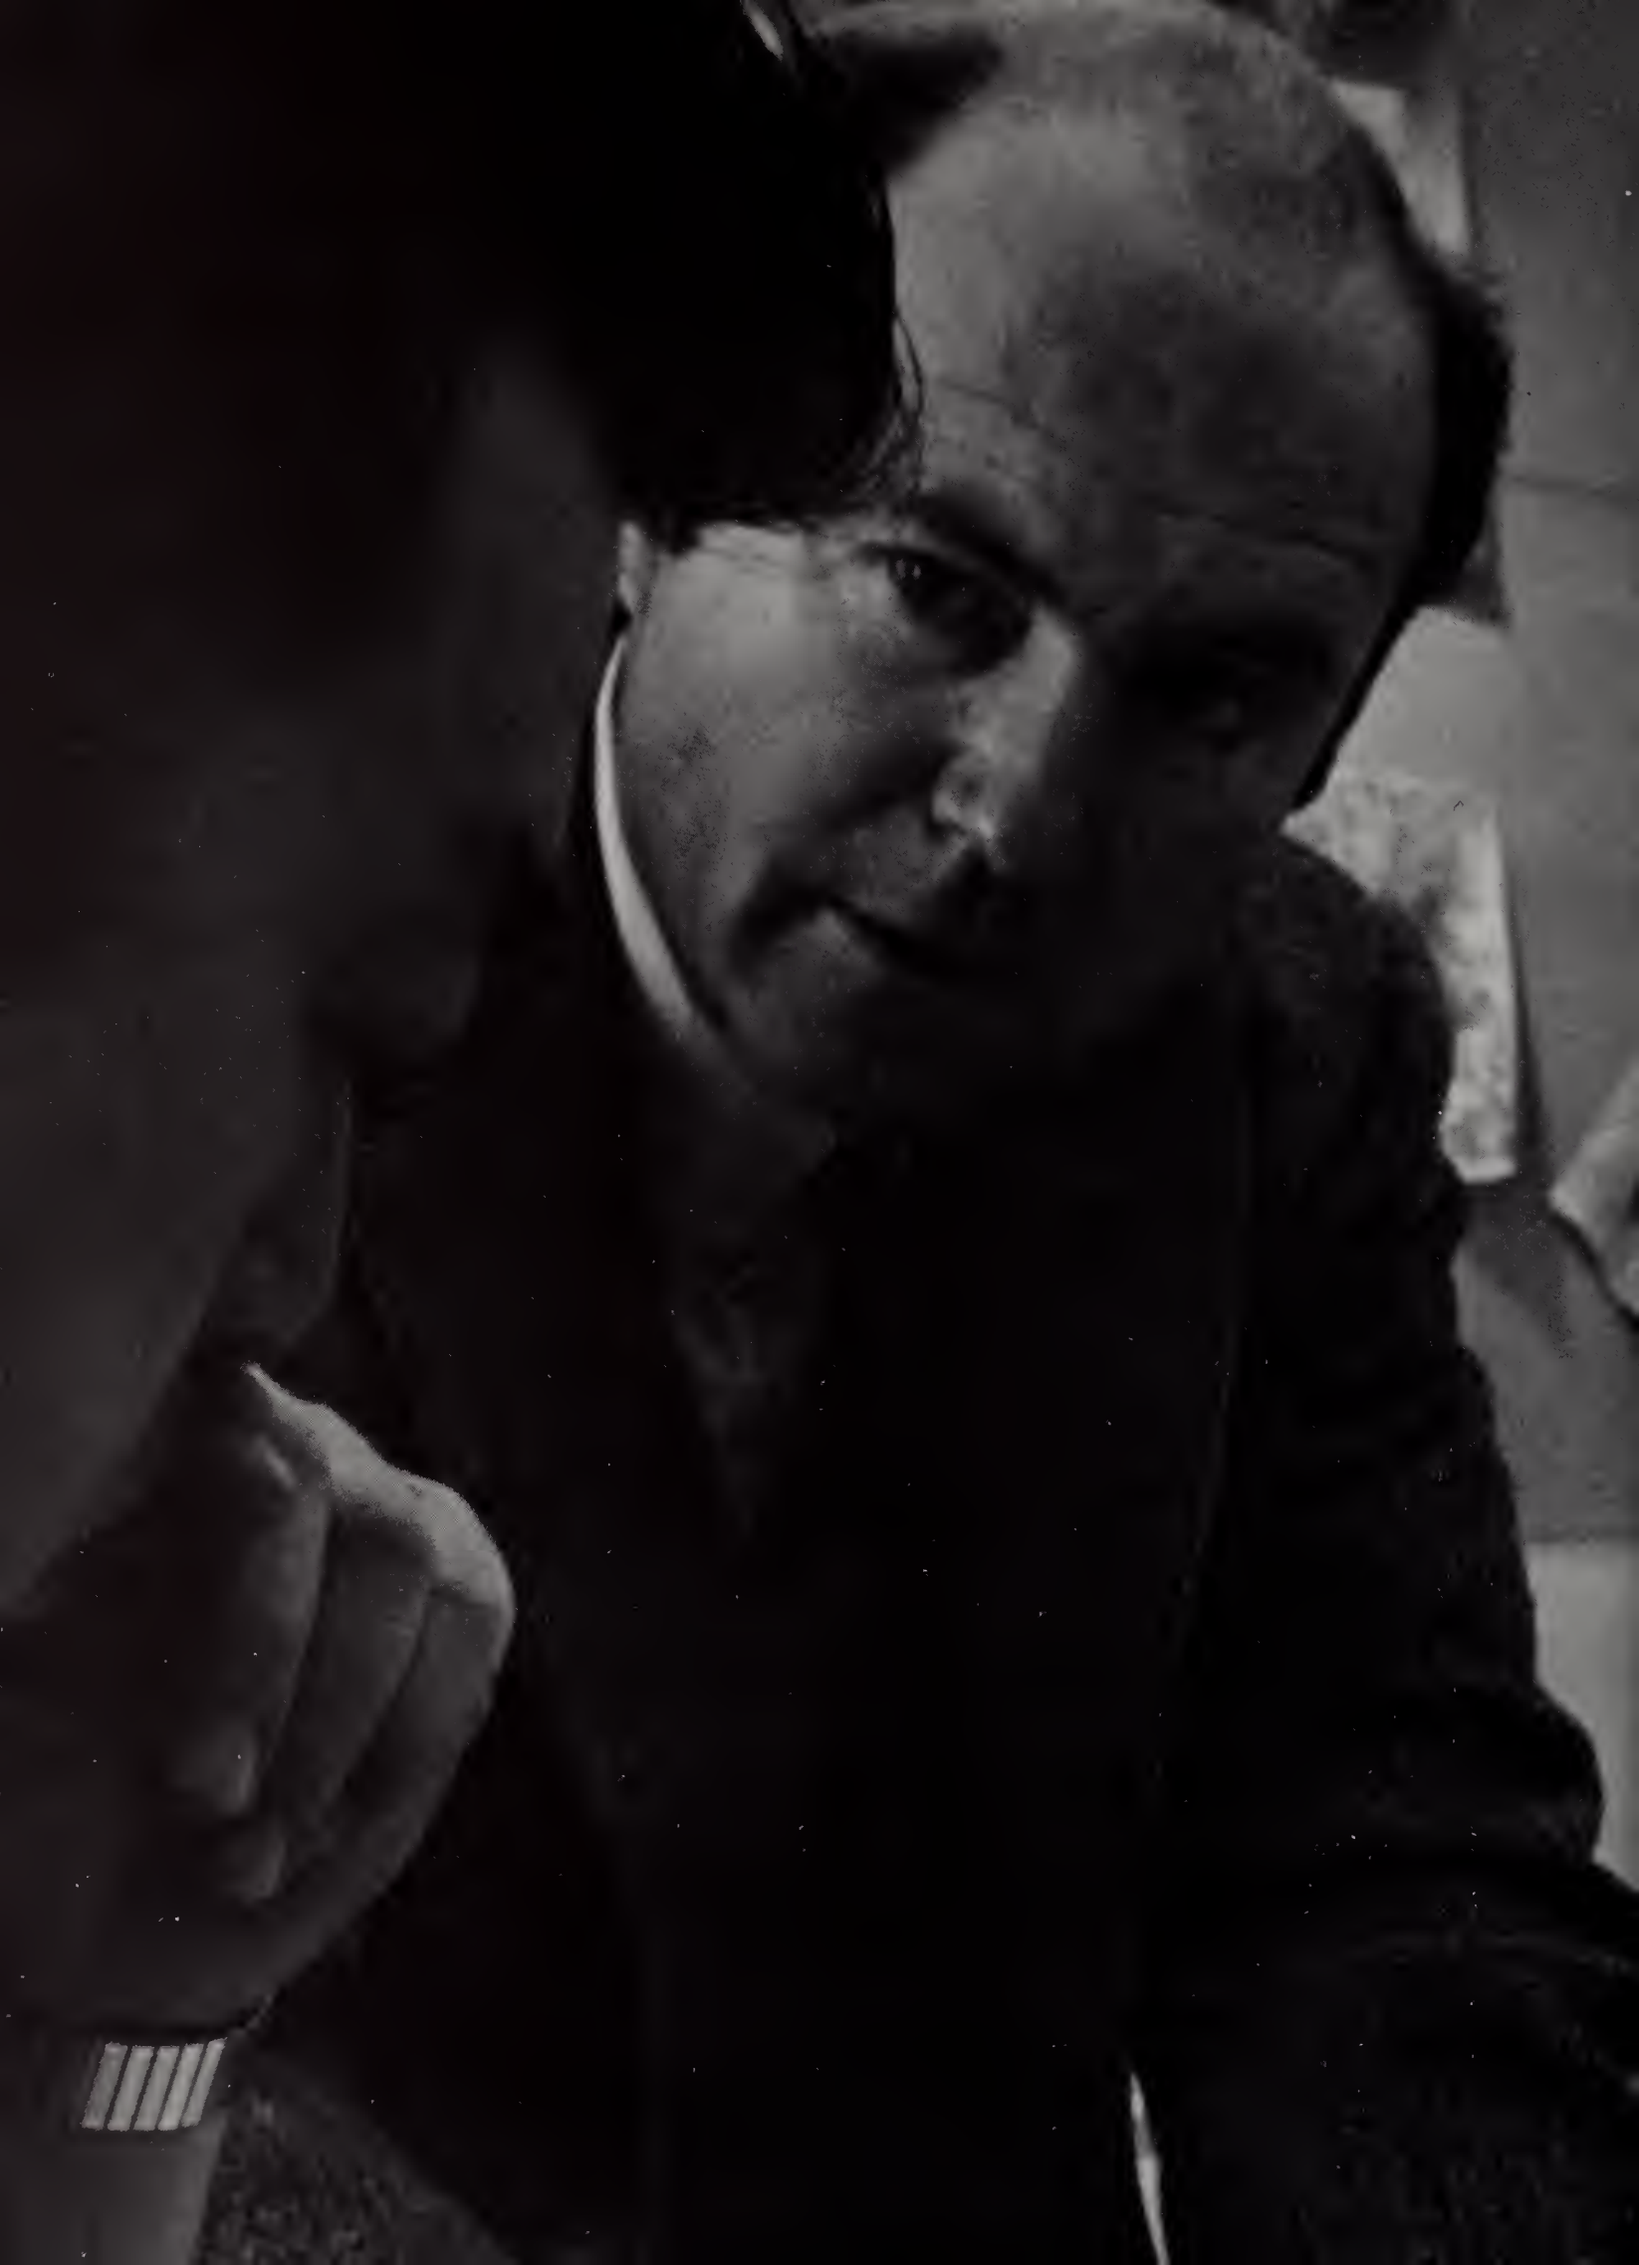


NO

As light catches the kaleidoscope, students focus on their interests.



Teachers
share
awareness
of
knowledge
and
life.



From
awareness,
we
find
meaning
in
experience.

Blue
as
choose
involvement
with
others.

Through social activities we
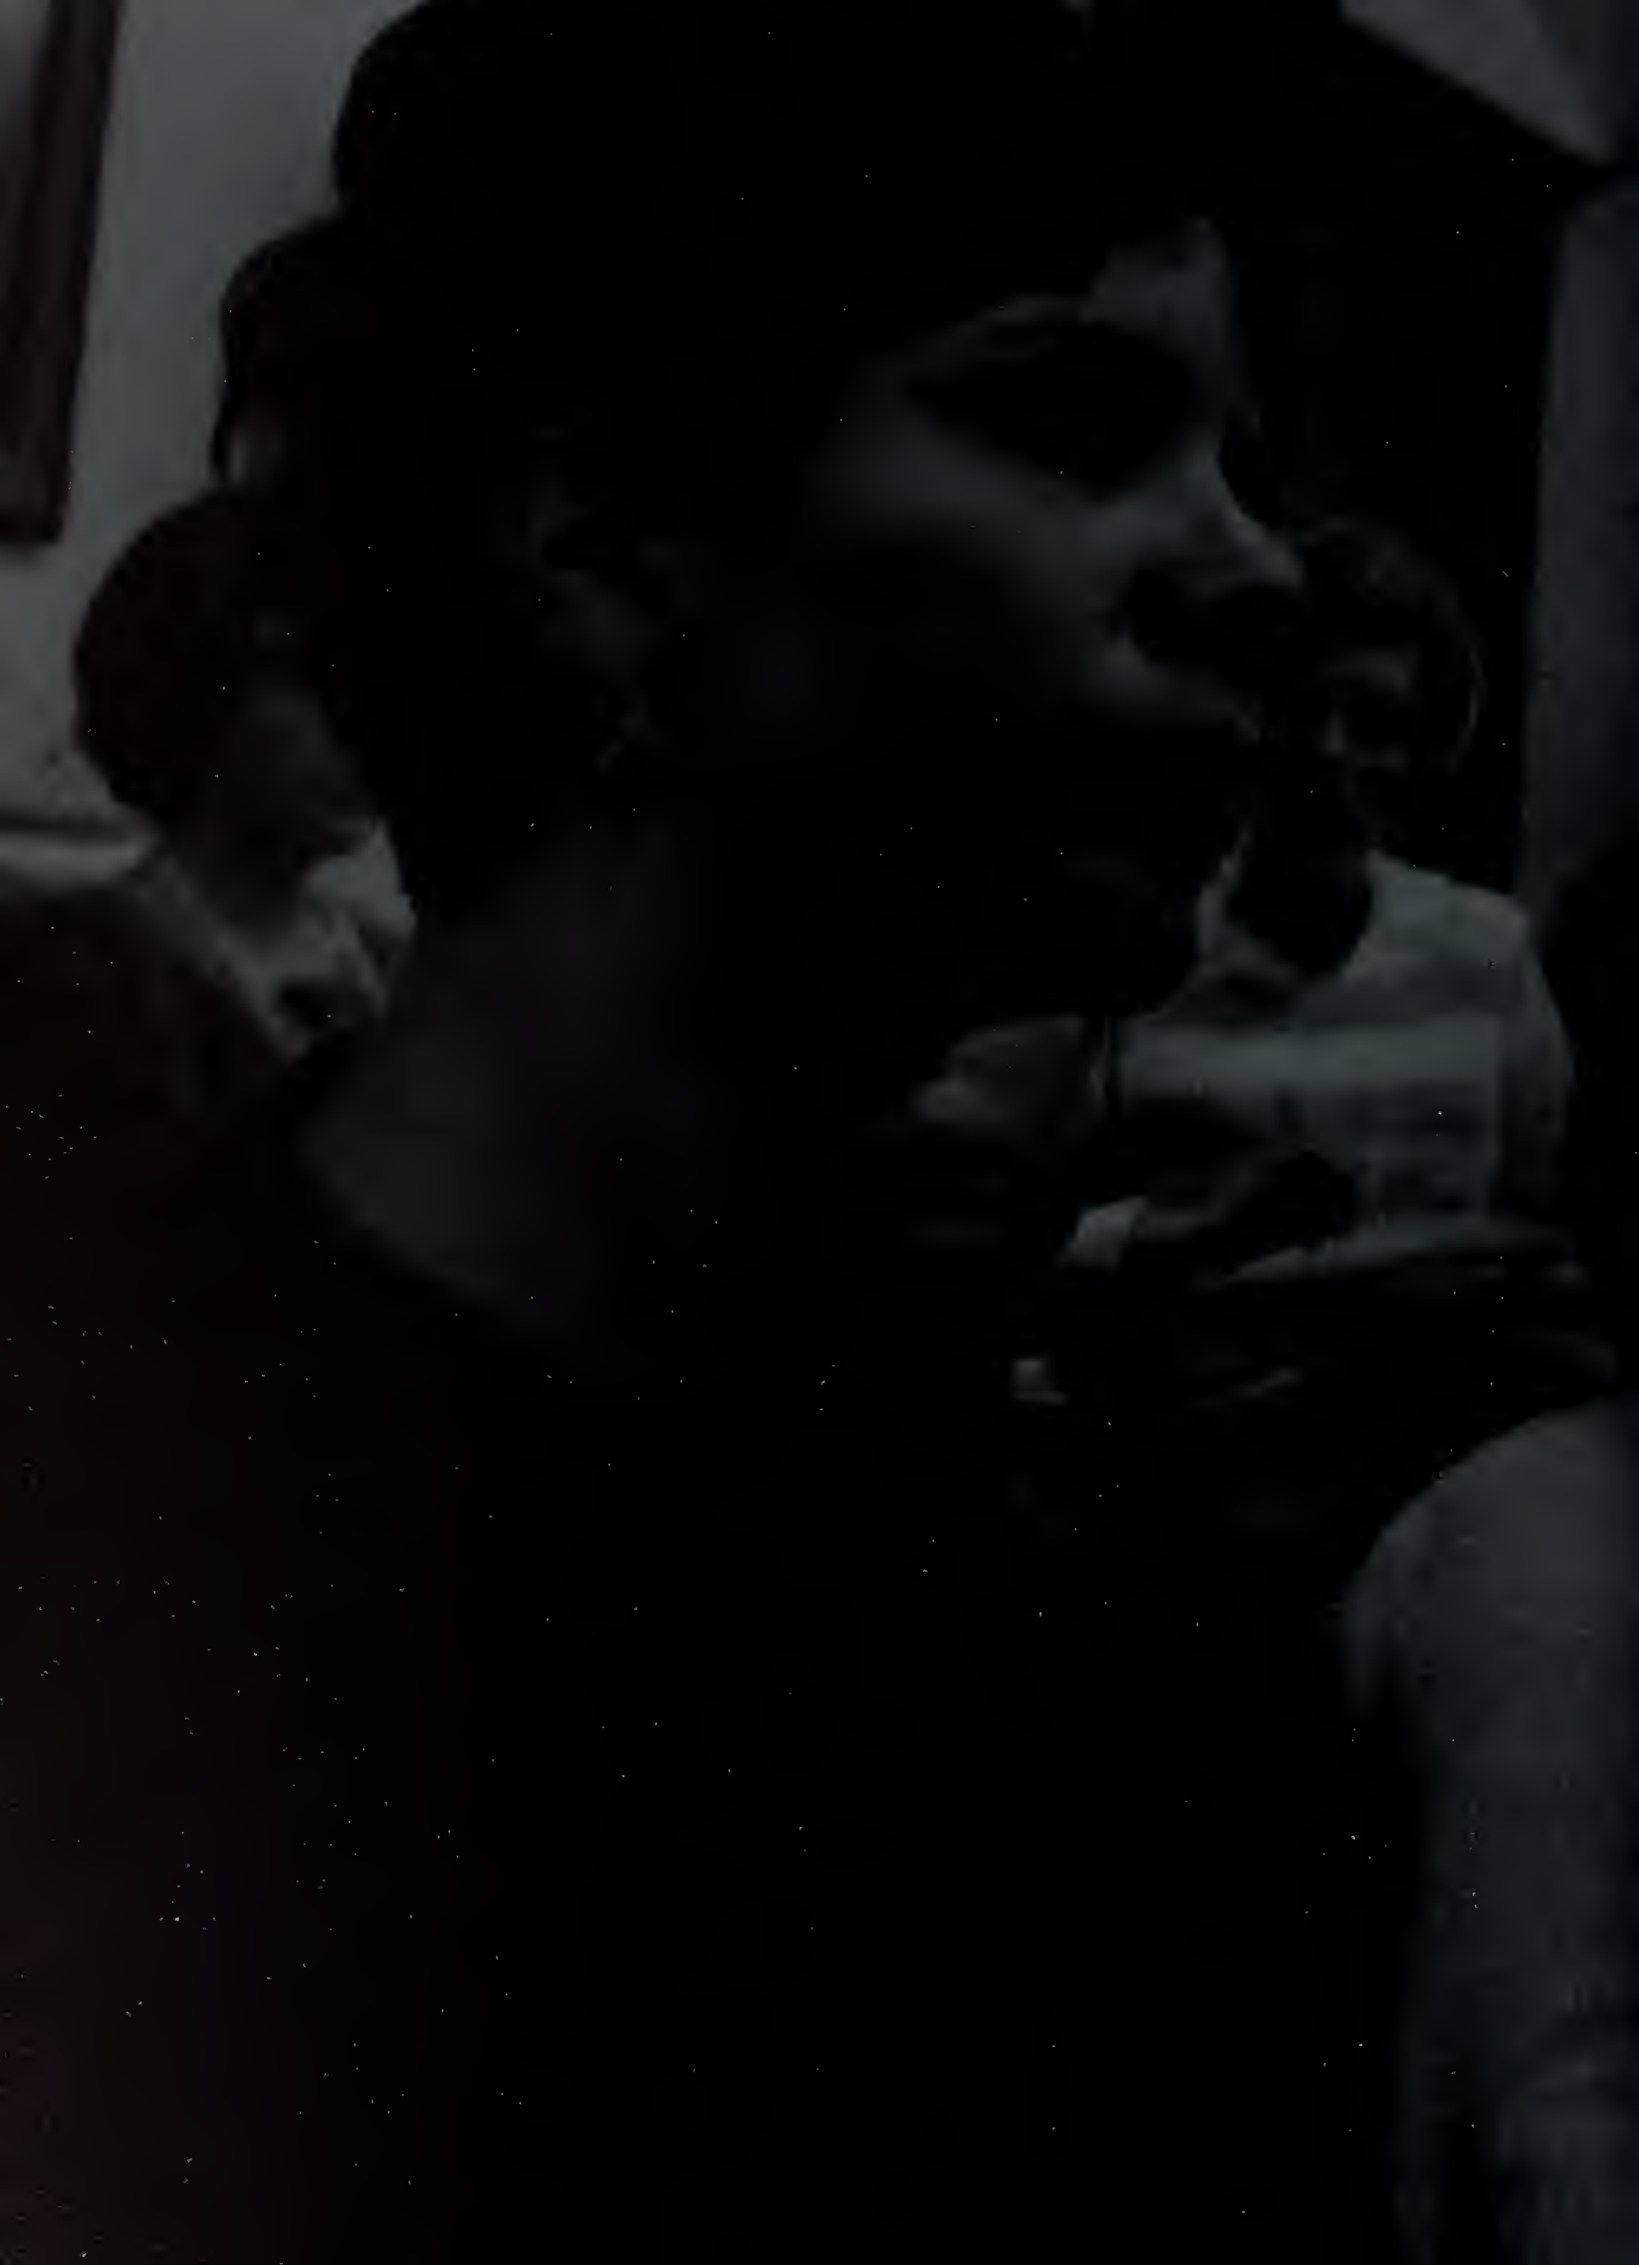
meet people
in an exchange
of feelings
and interests.

Residence life centers around students enjoying one another.



By
candle-lightings
share
a
new
personal
happiness
with
friends.

The sisters are more than teachers—they are persons who share our growth.

The kaleidoscope
has begun
to focus our lives;
but, it will
always revolve
and change shape
as we develop
and choose
our world.
